

Real Estate Information

January 16, 2007

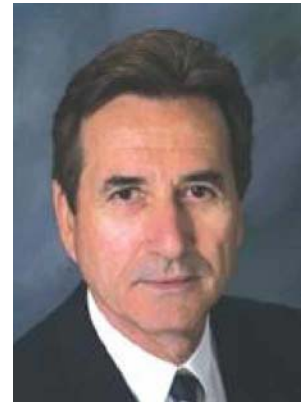

The Allen Group Taps New VP of Development Harve Filuk To Lead California Division

By Marco A. Guzman

Harve Filuk, who has more than 20 years experience dealing with commercial real estate development, was named vice president of development with The Allen Group's California division. The Allen Group is a commercial development firm that specializes in build-to-suit facilities and industrial parks.

In his new role, Filuk will manage all of the company's interests in California as well as development projects. He previously managed all of the Allen Group's commercial developments in San Diego. Filuk has been with The Allen Group since 1999.

www.allengroup.com

